Landscaping

Spaces are living things, changing and adapting to the seasons, activity and especially the people within them. At RES, we design landscapes that are both practical and adaptive. Each design process begins with in-depth studies of the environmental, ecological and social conditions to understand the setting and climate. This ensures that our designs are not just creative, but highly functional and sustainable for the long term.

Outdoor Play Equipments

Our company's vision could only be completed by establishing a joyous harmony between the future generation and the present generation. After vigorous research, we concluded that the most common factor linking both generations have been games, laughter & joy. These elements could be fulfilled with our wide range of Outdoor Equipments, including Multiplay Fun Systems, wellness outdoor gyms, adventure training equipments and many more such products. We are representing a very well reputed brand 'Funplay' for this segment. They have been market leaders for more than 15 years and have evolved their products and services to achieve highest quality and functionality. This product range merges very well with our primary interest of landscaping, pools and fountains, and helps us providing an overall solution for our customers.
